PUBLICATION OF SUBMISSION

Submissions may be published on the Royal Commission's website and referenced or quoted in its interim and final reports. Submissions can be treated by the Royal Commission as public, anonymous or confidential.

- Public submissions can be published on the website and referenced or quoted in the reports. Prior to publication, the Commission will remove any private contact details (e.g. a personal address).
- Anonymous submissions will be de-identified by the Commission and can be published on the website and referenced or quoted in the reports. Prior to publication, the Commission will remove the submitter's name and contact details and will redact (black out) any details that could identify the submitter.
- Confidential submissions will not be published on the website or referenced or quoted in the reports.

The Royal Commission will decide how a submission will be treated. However, in making its decision, the Royal Commission will consider your request indicated below, along with any legal and privacy considerations and the safety of all persons affected by matters raised in the submission and in the inquiry.

PLEASE SELECT ONE OF THE FOLLOWING OPTIONS

Please select your preference for how the Royal Commission should treat your submission:

- I am happy for this submission to be made public.
- I ask that my submission be treated as anonymous.
- I ask that my submission (or the parts that I identify) be treated as confidential.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I understand that:

- I may be contacted by the Royal Commission about the matters raised in my submission.
- The Royal Commission may contact me to seek further information or reasons to support my request for my submission to be treated as public, anonymous or confidential.
- The Royal Commission may remove or redact parts of my submission for legal, privacy and/or safety reasons.
- It is for the Royal Commission to decide whether it publishes a submission in part or in full on its website or refers to it in its reports.

- This checkbox confirms my acknowledgement of the above items.
