Sorry for my slow reply but was getting ready for a 40th am on my way to. As eager as I am to catch up hon, I think anywhere close to Port Melb is an act of sheer insanity. Everyone knows my car (had the same one for 5.5 yrs now) and I'm too well recognized so it's a bit risky. I'd prefer for both our sakes to be nowhere near home. I'm sorry about the real estate agents stuffing up our plan but it's the final handover tomorrow & I've (singlehandedly facelifted & repaired it over 12 weeks so very big date!), anyway let me know and allow quite a few hours as we have lots to talk about. Brighton will be chockablock tomorrow cause it's going to be 27 x

Hi gorgeous, just been under the pump with 2 court cases to deal with plus my illness plus driving to Mum's every single day to ready house for sale. Get really tired after 4-5hrs of activity - am very fit but my pain medication & ongoing mental issues (thanks to the lying clowns at VicPol) slow me down. No one really can understand or wants to take the time to anyway - it's a rush rush world these days with everyone wanting or needing everything straight away! Will be nice to finally catch up - let me know when suits but not a very sensible idea to meet in Port Melb as it's still overrun with crims. Uninsured bastard plumber smashed my car last week so will have no car from 2/1/13 for 10 days so hopefully it can be before then cause I am not catching a train to you! Am terribly down in the dumps because it's Christmas & I always miss Mum & feel awfully lonely. You understand I'm sure - even if you're lacking someone who takes your breath away & who you find breath-taking (my test standard for my future man), you at least have your children. Anyway as soon as it's 26/12 I'll be ok again! Am texting not calling because my face is aching badly today but you were never & could never be blacklisted baby - you never fail to lift my heart & make me feel precious on my birthday with those beautiful flowers so how on earth could you think you were forgotten? Have just run out of spirit & puff at the moment is all & feeling a bit blue. Look forward to catching up soon, love me xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Wow so much info I don't know how to begin to answer I to am under the pump as the client wants to move in over Christmas not going to happen not my fault the kitchen won't be ready until feb some people are clueless. Three months on and I still have no friends I can't relate to other people I am always alone and keep to myself in the fear of saying to much seven years in solitary has really fucked with my head forward and onward just keep occupied that's the trick. The opportunities here are endless next year I have to really evaluate the situation and make some dynamic moves. For now I have to pay a little tax to become some one again and impress the banks we will have to see how that turns out. So your up for a visit you say how does this Saturday sound let me know and I will call you right back. Thanks for the wonderful text you sent me it really lifted my spirits your such a gem Nic luv ya precious girl xxx [REDACTED]

My slow reply is due to dislocating a couple of ribs & being in extra pain on top of my normal daily pain. Don't take it personally but unless I absolutely have to, I rarely answer the phone in the evenings. I know I have told you about my chronic nerve pain plenty of times but by the evenings, I'm usually in pretty serious pain & worn out from pain killers & pain all day so I figure it's better to not answer than be short tempered with anyone! Glad to hear u r kicking goals not that success was ever in doubt - you'll succeed regardless of the hurdles put before you. I understand your comment about being alone - my trust levels in anyone new are zero and this time of the year makes me terribly sad & desperately alone. What a reminder of all those precious years I wasted on a cesspool of crap thinking what I was doing mattered so much! Now I just need to keep treading water until my court cases resolve, I know you get how difficult that is! Have you noticed how insane everybody is this time of year, like the world will end if it's not done now or before Xmas! Pity all those stress-heads, I thank VicPol for giving me cancer for at least it has slowed me down! No health means you have nothing at all! Have got a few commitments tomorrow & Sunday going to be far too hot. Mon ok or after Xmas hon. Take care of yourself baby xxx

Just bumped into Ang Hantsis.... Unusual as haven't seen her at my usual coffee place for at least 6-8 mths. Anyway, as usual she apologized for not being able to speak to me. Said to wish you a merry Xmas if I happened to see you or speak to you (I told her I was in contact with you as it enabled me to have a crack at VicPol again). Ruined my take away coffee seeing anyone from that organization of bastards!

Thanks hon. I've struggled every day since Xmas day in terrible pain; no amount nor combination of drugs has helped dull the pain so consequently, I'm very emotional and in a bad way. I remember talking to you when you had your headache/pain early this year and you were very depressed & edgy... Welcome to my world! All I hope for the new year is for a clever scientist to find a cure for trigeminal neuralgia because being in constant pain is soul-destroying. I'm also expecting a rough year ahead in court fighting the chief commissioner so anyway, let's hope that a new year brings good health & happiness (I certainly can't ask for more!), I hope it brings you joy & a sense of peace baby. Look forward to sharing a lot more in person but I have no car until 6/1 (as just my luck an uninsured arsehole smashed it)! Love you always hon xxx PS. If you have spare time google neuralgia and see how fucked up I am 24/7

Have been thinking about you today... Had a pretty early night but didn't sleep properly due to other peoples' partying and am in terrible pain despite seeing a doctor at 10am this morning. Are you ok? I mean really ok? I'm texting because my neuralgia is so bad today I'm resisting both talking & eating but I, to some degree, understand your loneliness. I guard what privacy I have very fiercely & am reasonably paranoid about new people, factor into that anyone hearing about my life-long illness & being able to cope with it then a person working out who I am/my surname, it makes life very hard. Ironically the very thing I need most is someone to look out for me & to look after me however I've accepted that is highly unlikely to occur & I can really only rely upon myself. I have found the Xmas season & new years exceptionally lonely & tough (as I do every year because it's a time one spends with their family or special half) as I used to at least have Mum to give me an emotional boost so on top of being lonely I miss her terribly. I hope this makes sense & I can only imagine that part of you feels like it was all a huge let-down after waiting so long for your freedom. All I can suggest is one day at a time hon because that's the ONLY way I cope rather than getting overwhelmed & more deeply depressed. Hugs til I get a car & see you xxx

You make me smile! No hon, still battling a world of pain, morphine & exhaustion every single day and fall in love???? Are you on something you shouldn't be taking??? Just taking life one day at a time, no amazing news to report, hopeful that Feb 8 will give me an idea where my defamation case is heading and otherwise am just plodding along killing time until the next battle with VicPol. Most days I see doctors, lawyers, Physio or my small but loyal friends who understand my chronic severe neuralgia and support me, am lucky because I'm too unwell to be able to work. All pretty tragic really! Lara is alive and not MIA baby! xxx

Hi gorgeous, apologies for my late text but am just wondering if you're going to be in Melb this weekend and if you are, whether you'd like to catch up for dinner with me? I've been very stressed & am not well but heard something today that I need to tell you in person so I hope you'll be able to give me a much needed hug! Let me know hon... I'm taking too much pain medication to be able to drive far but would be great to see you!

Precious Nic I would love nothing more than to catch up with you dinner sounds fantastic you tell me where and when and I will be there. I have to be in Melb on Friday arvo and I am free after that. I could stay the night and we could catch up Saturday what ever suits you best. Better still have a think about it today and I will call you at 5pm after work and we can discuss it then in more detail. Arreverdecci would be good or to high risk what do you think. I can't wait am so excited Luv ya [REDACTED]xxx

Yes it'll be great to finally catch up hon. Arrivaderci has had a name change and been sold apparently so forget that I think. My preference would be Sat evening as I'll be ok if I have a rest late in the day then aim to meet at about 6pm. I really don't get out that much hon but I'd have thought we should be ok if we went to a pub in South Melb that has nice meals? Pretty quiet and we'd have to be very unlucky to be seen by anyone at all! Google O'Connells Hotel or the Emerald Hotel (we have been there before and see what you think) xx

Am home tucked under a blanket on my couch reading and just thinking how nice it was to see you and to have a laugh - you haven't aged at all and still have an incredible knack for telling stories in a very funny way. Years may have passed but it doesn't feel like it in lots of ways! Will be in touch and will hope to be able to be seen in public next weekend! Drive safely hon & don't let anything overwhelm you because you are one in a million xxx

Sorry for such a late response left my phone charger at home all good now. Firstly let me thank you so much for a lovely dinner Nic and great company Despite all your ailments you look incredibly beautiful and to be totally honest I was a little lost for words and didn't say half the things I intended to say I got so caught up in your up coming defamation case that my mind went in to overdrive trying to process all the information. Maybe next time when I am a little relaxed and your just a little less irritated we could talk about good times like the supper club and Fiancé. Good luck next week hope all goes well for you keep me posted on your goings on if I don't see them in the papers before then take care sweetheart your always in my thoughts love ya xxx

Thanks beautiful - you did seem a bit out of sorts & nervous which is hardly surprising (as I was as well) because it's such a long time since we have been able to have normal contact. I saw Alex for a few hours today and have about a day's worth of work ahead of me in terms of preparation for my barrister but he reminded me how important it was that I force myself to address their lies & bullshit before seeing the barrister blah blah... I am not a good client!! Yes hon, look forward to catching up with you again and talking about all sorts of more important things than the imbeciles who I allowed to steal so many of my younger years!! Look after yourself hon and don't change because you are perfect as you are xxx

Happy Birthday again gorgeous!! I am sorry I interrupted museum trip. Just wanted to let you know I have urgent appt to see oral surgeon Thurs morning so as soon as I know what has to be done and when I can chew or talk I'll be in touch!! Thurs is a terribly difficult day for me emotionally (Mum's anniversary) so prob good that I have to see the gum expert to distract me!! Hope you have had a spectacular day and may all your birthday wishes come true!! Love you long time xxx
