Replaying voicemail from Nicola Gobbo

UNIDENTIFIED MALE: 1st of August 2010. Time is 1.30. Just about to play the messages from Witness F.

AUTOMATED VOICE: You have 3--you have 3 saved messages. Received at 11.57 AM.

GOBBO: Sorry um just to clarify the last part of my earlier message. Um my solicitors as of um later on today will not hold any instruction in relation to ah further matters or any operational matters or anything to do with negotiations in so far as [REDACTED] is concerned. The only instructions they will have pertain to the finalisation of settlement. However if you could be kind enough to call me back and let me know who it is that I can call in relation to anything to do with discussions [REDACTED] I would be grateful considering your solicitors say it is you and as of this morning from whatever card you were reading from um as you made the point three times it definitely isn't you. There's obviously some communication breakdown but if you could just let me know the name and number of the person or text me that would be great. As of um later this week this number won't be operating anymore because it's being cut off and um I don't have a number - - another phone. Thank you, bye.

AUTOMATED VOICE: To transfer this message--
