

being investigated. We discussed the possibility that I could only be charged if [REDACTED] 'gave me up'. Gobbo was acting for [REDACTED] at the time. I was never charged.

21. The nature of the fee arrangement by retainer ceased when I was remanded on the [REDACTED] charges. Fees for my legal representation at the committal hearing and later proceedings were funded legitimately by family members.
22. She was my barrister for my [REDACTED] case. She got a senior barrister to lead her in the plea.
23. She represented me in a bail application.
24. She represented me at the [REDACTED]
25. She was my barrister (junior counsel) for the [REDACTED] In addition to the matters I set out below at Question 7, she also talked me out of appealing my sentence in the [REDACTED] case, even though my senior counsel advised me I should appeal. I followed her advice on this because at that stage I still trusted her completely.
26. After my cases had finished, she continued to come and see me in jail, for free. That caused me to get a little suspicious.
